

GENERAL RAILWAY SIGNAL CO.

has signed a license agreement to manufacture and market a railroad hot box detector under a patent issued to International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. The agreement gives GRS exclusive right to make and sell the detector in the U.S. and Canada and includes the right to sublicense other firms. It also provides that ITT will supply technical information to the signal company, but reserves the right to ITT to manufacture and sell the device under the same patent if it desires.